2. Establishment Background & Vision

2.1 Founding Background

2.1.1 Structural Growth of the Korean Golf Market

South Korea has established itself as one of the world's most golf-passionate nations.

- Golf Population: Approximately 6.24 million people (~11% of total population) play golf, representing an annual average growth of 8%+ over the past five years.
- High-Net-Worth Golf Demand: Post-pandemic, demand for overseas golf tours among high-income golfers (annual income KRW 100M+) has exploded. As of 2023, Korean outbound golf travelers are estimated at approximately 350,000 annually, with the United States being the second most preferred destination after Southeast Asia.
- Premiumization Trend: Korean golfers are shifting their consumption patterns from "value-for-money" golf travel to "value-for-heart" premium golf experiences.

2.1.2 The Rise of US Inbound Tourism to Korea

- K-Culture Boom: The global spread of K-POP, K-Drama, K-Beauty, and K-Food has dramatically increased American travel demand to Korea.
- US Visitors to Korea: Approximately 1.1 million in 2023 (up 58% YoY), projected to surpass 1.3 million in 2024.
- Luxury Niche Market: An increasing number of high-income American travelers are moving beyond traditional group tours to seek private, curated Korean experiences.

2.1.3 Founder's Competitive Advantage

- 20+ Years US Residency: Founder Hee Sung Lee has resided in the United States for over 20 years, building an extensive network across California's premier golf courses, hotels, and transportation providers.
- Industry Hands-On Experience: Years of working directly at US golf courses have provided deep, practical understanding of golf industry systems and infrastructure — including tee time reservation systems, course management, and member services operations.
- Bilingual & Bicultural Competency: Fluent in Korean and English with deep understanding of both cultures, enabling precise identification of customer needs.
- Digital-Native Approach: Website-based online booking systems and digital marketing capabilities enable efficient one-person corporate operations.

2.2 Business Vision and Goals

Short-Term Vision (2026 - 2027)

Successfully enter the Korean outbound golf market and US inbound luxury travel market from a Busan Haeundae base, achieving annual revenue of KRW 500M and establishing brand recognition.

Mid-Term Vision (2027 - 2028)

Surpass KRW 1 billion in annual revenue, expand partner golf courses (California → Arizona, Florida), and grow the organization by hiring 2-3 dedicated staff.

Long-Term Vision (2028 - 2029)

Emerge as Asia's premier premium golf and travel platform. Expand beyond Korea↔USA routes (Korea↔Japan, Korea↔Vietnam) and grow to KRW 2 billion in annual revenue.

10. Risk Analysis & Mitigation

10.1 Risk Assessment Matrix

Risk Factor	Likelihood	Impact	Risk Level
Initial customer acquisition failure	High	Very High	Critical
Exchange rate fluctuations	Medium	Medium	Moderate
Airfare surge	Medium	Medium	Moderate
Intensifying large-agency competition	Low	High	Moderate
Partner contract breach	Low	High	Moderate
Natural disaster / pandemic	Low	Very High	High
Legal/regulatory changes	Low	Medium	Low
Single-person operation risk	Medium	Medium	Moderate

10.2 Detailed Risk Analysis and Mitigation

Initial Customer Acquisition Failure (Critical)

- Risk Description: Delayed initial customer acquisition as a new brand, causing revenue shortfalls and cash flow deterioration
- Mitigation:
 - Secure pre-launch bookings through personal networks and referrals (target: 3 bookings for first 6 months)
 - Aggressive discount promotion for first customers (30-50% discount) → Early-bird pricing
 - Complimentary influencer tours → leveraged for SNS viral marketing

- Early inbound customer acquisition through US partner travel agencies
- Monitoring: Track monthly inquiries and conversion rates, quarterly strategy reassessment

Exchange Rate Fluctuations (Moderate)

- Risk Description: Won/Dollar exchange rate fluctuations eroding profitability (baseline assumption: 1 USD = KRW 1,300)
- Mitigation:
 - ±10% exchange rate fluctuation buffer incorporated into package pricing
 - Prepay major costs (airfare, golf courses) to lock in exchange rates
 - Leverage natural hedge effect from bidirectional business structure (inbound + outbound)
 - Quarterly exchange rate monitoring with price adjustments as needed
 - Acceptable Exchange Rate Range: 1 USD = KRW 1,200 - 1,450 (break-even at KRW 1,100)

Intensifying Large-Agency Competition (Moderate)

- Risk Description: Large agencies (HanaTour, ModeTour) aggressively entering the premium golf market
- Mitigation:
 - Differentiate on quality and personalization, not scale — hyper-personalized service large agencies cannot replicate
 - Pursue exclusive contracts for specific courses/regions (priority partnerships with 3 California golf courses)
 - Focus on customer relationships: "Host Model" where the CEO personally communicates with every customer
 - Maximize operational efficiency through accelerated digital transformation

Natural Disaster / Pandemic (High)

- Risk Description: Complete suspension of international travel in the event of a global pandemic recurrence (e.g., COVID-19)
- Mitigation:
 - Clearly state fully refundable cancellation policy (builds trust)
 - Maintain pivot readiness to domestic golf/travel products
 - Permanent reserve liquidity of KRW 50M (emergency operating funds)
 - Mandate travel insurance to distribute mutual risk

Single-Person Operation Risk (Moderate)

- Risk Description: Business interruption due to the sole representative's health issues or personal circumstances
- Mitigation:
 - SOP (Standard Operating Procedure) documentation with key partner companies
 - Maintain a constant pool of 2-3 reliable freelance guides
 - Secure corporate perpetuity (differentiator from sole proprietorship)
 - Build organizational structure through planned hiring of 2 full-time staff within 3 years

12.1 Business Viability

The establishment of Resonate Club as a Domestic & International Travel Agency holds high business viability based on the following rationale.

Market Perspective

- Overseas golf travel demand among Korea's 6.24 million golf population is growing at 12.5% CAGR, with a clear premiumization trend.

- Both markets present premium niche opportunities that large travel agencies have not adequately addressed.

Competitive Perspective

- Founder Hee Sung Lee's 20+ years US residency, golf course hands-on experience, and bicultural understanding constitute an irreplaceable competitive advantage.
- The digital-first one-person corporation model secures high profitability with minimal fixed costs.
- A cost-based 40% markup model provides a predictable revenue structure.

Legal Perspective

- A sufficient funding plan has been established to meet travel agency registration requirements under the Tourism Promotion Act (KRW 50M capital, KRW 50M surety insurance).
- A systematic 6-8 week roadmap from corporation establishment to business launch is in place.

12.3 Final Recommendation

In accordance with the plan presented in this business proposal, we seek to establish Resonate Club Inc. in Haeundae-gu, Busan in the second half of 2026, register as a Domestic & International Travel Agency, and set a new standard for premium travel connecting Korea and the United States.

Resonate Club commits to contributing to the premiumization and globalization of Korea's travel industry, not as a mere travel agency, but as a "curator designing experiences where customers and destinations resonate."
